Pastoral Reflection

Rev. Terri Thorn, Associate Pastor

Dear Friends,

As I sat down to write my contribution to the September Chimes, I had to give a double-take look at my calendar. It does not seem possible that we are nearing the end of the summer already, and oh my, what a summer it has been for the Tab family!

I thought it might be fun to use this article to recount all the events and activities that have filled the summer months but decided against it. For one thing, the list would be longer than my allocated space. Not to mention, I would surely forget to include something - particularly since many of the ways we live out our mission of Greater Faith, Deeper Relationships, Stronger Community never make the official "calendar."

There is, however, one special summer day that remains close to my heart – Sunday, July 30, the celebration of Rev. John Gable's retirement. From the holy moments of the worship service, to the delightful and creative Tabby Awards ceremony, to the heartwarming video created by Timm Gable recapturing his dad (and mom's) ministry journey, to the 450+ reservations for the pig roast picnic - the day was absolutely perfect. I am certain that John and Kris are probably still recalling the many special moments of that day and will carry the encompassing love in their hearts forever.

For me personally, though, the day took on additional significance as it meant that I would soon step into the role of temporary lead pastor and head of staff during the search for an interim pastor who will lead us through the process of calling a new senior pastor. It was a reality I knew was coming, but as with the end of summer, arrived much more quickly than I anticipated. It was a little unnerving to consider that it was suddenly here.

Throughout the worship service and recognition activities of the day, I found myself contemplating the reality of what it would take to complete 41 years of ministry with a legacy like John's. The many expressions of admiration and love were proof that John not only impacted our lives in a meaningful way, but he blessed all of the congregations he served. We were able to send John into his retirement in such a beautiful way because he had loved us and led us to become a beautiful, albeit imperfect, manifestation of God's vision for the church.

At one point, I remember thinking: "Wow! Those are some really big shoes to fill!" I also recall my heart starting to race with anxiety at that thought I was expected to fill them. That is, until the moment a still voice that is not my own spoke these words to me: "They are big, but they are not your shoes to fill. You have your own shoes. You don't wear John's and he can't wear yours. Just wear your shoes, the ones God has given you. They are all you need."

Friends, this holy reminder, your prayers, and the kind words of encouragement of the last few weeks, have strengthened me for this season more than words can express.

I'm still nervous about the responsibility, but I am not anxious or afraid. I am confident that God is leading all of us, equipping all of us, and empowering all of us to walk together into this time of transition.

I will not always do things the way John did. I will need to ask questions and learn names. I will make mistakes and need your prayers, your forgiveness and God's grace. And yes, I will be walking in my own "shoes" of giftedness, calling, personality and leadership style...not John's. Still, with God's help, we will navigate this transition while walking on the same foundation that John helped lay, with same blessing and charge he gave us: "You are loved. Now go and do something good for the kingdom." ✠

Mary Mills: All Creatures Great and Small!

by Maya Wagle

Mary Mills is besotted with many things. At the top of that list is Jesus whom she fell in love with when she attended Tab in her teens and listened to the sermons of Tab's pastor, Dr. James Martin. Other things on that list, include two and four-legged creatures, i.e. little children and horses, respectively.

Born in Fort Wayne, Mary was an only child and moved to Indianapolis at the age of three. Her family lived at 50th and Winthrop through most of her youth. She attended School 70 at 46th and Central and graduated from Broad Ripple High School. From there, she attended Butler University where she acquired her degree in Elementary Education, and then earned a Master's Degree at Indiana University. Her first jobs were teaching first graders in Pike Township and at Eastbrook Elementary. Taking a break after marriage, she returned to teaching when the family moved to Zionsville. She retired in 2007 after a 35-year career in elementary education.

She and her husband, David, have been members of Tab since 1972, following their Tab wedding. David was a year senior to her at Broad Ripple High School. He caught her eye as a talented jazz trumpet player in school. They have been happily married for 51 years!

The Mills' have three grown children. Chad is an engineer with the Westfield government; Megan is a surgical vet tech and resides in Fairfax, Virginia; and Katherine, who resides in California. Interestingly, Dave and Mary have seven grandchildren—all girls! This has created a lopsided "power structure." Woman power! David and Mary keep very active, attending their volleyball and soccer games.

Both David and Mary have served on the Tab Session off and on for many years. Mary helped with the Infant Nursery for five years and was on Jennifer Wirt's team teaching Sunday School for younger kids.

Mary and David's claim to fame lies in that they introduced Patty Wright, Mary's dear friend through high school and college, to Rick Reel in a very "sly" manner when they had a party at their clubhouse. The rest is history!

Mary is dedicated and passionate about everything she gets involved with: Jesus, the education of little kids, her marriage to David and her passion for dogs and horses. It lines up with what Jesus wants us to do—take little children and helpless animals into our fold. Like our Lord, she loves to fish.

She still rides her draft horse and hopes to get on a horse when she's 80. Her other activities include walking three miles a day with her neighbor and hiking in State and National Parks with her family. She is a member of two book clubs and loves playing bridge with friends like Linda Fledderjohn and Julie Kukolla.

What is amazing is that she has fallen off her horse eleven times and has still managed to get up and stay up. Isn't that what our Lord wants us to do? Persevere! †

Letters of Thanks

An UMOJA Partnership Update

by Denise Soltis, with a special THANK YOU from Pastor Emeritus, L. John Gable

Dear Tab,

Please accept my profound thanks, the thanks of the Kenyan staff and the thanks of well over 5,000 current students for your support. Your mission support and your A-Maizing Lunch funds help sustain a portion of our programming every year. With your partnership over the last 16 years, Umoja Partnership has grown stronger and more vibrant than ever. I am overwhelmed by this gift that you have given in honor of Pastor John Gable. This gift can help us grow, reaching more children, educating more young people and giving hope to even more families.

When John and Kristin return from their well-earned time off, we will meet together and discuss their wishes, and I will provide the church an update. I know they were interested in sponsoring a school so we may be able to add our 21st school. That school sponsorship includes the school lunch program, uniforms, blankets, solar lights, girls and boys empowerment programs, a home build each year and scholarships for those students as they join high school and college.

With your help, God is lifting up Umoja families. Your support has already fostered transformation in this vulnerable community. I hope that you continue to partner with us for this important work.

Blessings to Tabernacle Church. Your gifts to those less fortunate in Indianapolis and around the world are truly living the word of God, as well as building a stronger community in Indianapolis and Chulaimbo.

Peace,

Denise Soltis, BS Pharm, MSGH

Executive Director, Umoja Partnership

Dear Friends,

Words alone cannot express our deep appreciation to you for the wonderful ways you celebrated my ministry and retirement. Both Kristin and I have been deeply touched by the worship services, the dedication following, the party in the park and the many, many expressions of kindness written and spoken. Just as many of you have said you had trouble knowing how to thank us, we are now finding the same difficulty. May "thank you" suffice.

We also want to thank you for honoring our request to honor us through gifts to the Umoja Project. Your response has been gracious and generous beyond our expectations. As of this writing you have contributed $39,533! Your gifts will be life-changing for hundreds of orphaned and vulnerable children in Western Kenya through the good work of Umoja, providing daily sustenance of maize and beans, school uniforms, sanitary towels and scholarships to secondary school and beyond. When I first visited Kenya in January 2012, the Umoja children were at the very bottom of their classes, now, through this good ministry and our assistance, those same children have risen through the ranks to the top of their classes. That is the difference your gift is making in the lives of those children.

On their behalf and ours, let us say as they would say, Asante sana! Thank you!

And God's blessings,

John and Kristin Gable

...One Person Talking to Another

by Gail Wiener

Dr. Gradeless pictured above with wife, Kathy

Thank you!

Not too long ago, Tab member Amy McLean shared with Gail Wiener (also of Tab) that Coburn Place residents could benefit from large pieces of art in their transitional apartments since the ceilings are so high. Coburn offers compassionate support and safe housing choices for survivors of domestic violence and their children.

Gail sprang into action and found six, oversized canvases. She then learned that the dental office staff of Dr. Mike Gradeless in Fishers was looking to do a team-building painting project. Gail asked them if they would be willing to donate the finished canvases to Coburn Place, and they said yes!

Gail then connected them with artist Taylor Walker to help them do all the paintings in Tab's Dining Room. Soon they will be delivered to Coburn Place!

Gail, Amy, Coburn Place, Dr. Gradeless' staff, Taylor Walker, thank you for following the call to put legs to Tab's vision of Stronger Community! 🙏
